With your support, there will be more survivors like Aurora

Breast cancer survivor, Aurora is one of 20,000 Australians diagnosed with Breast cancer each year.

Aurora credits her survival to her treatment at The Royal Melbourne Hospital (RMH) under the care of leading breast cancer experts Professor Bruce Mann and Dr Allison Rose.

Aurora was enrolled in a clinical trial combining novel magnetic resonance imaging and innovative surgical management. Dr Rose identified, and Professor Mann removed, two additional lesions which were missed using traditional mammography.

"Because of that investigation, the chances of me dying of cancer have significantly diminished."

The RMH provides excellent care and conducts world-class research into breast cancer allowing earlier diagnosis and the best possible outcomes. We deliver:

- Breast screening
- The best clinical care
- Genetic understanding of cancer type
- Clinical trials
- Less invasive surgery
- Tissue banking and research.

Aurora's story and her recovery remind us of the impact medical research has for real people.

By purchasing a ticket in our Home Lottery, you are supporting one of Australia's best hospitals. You are helping to advance healthcare for everyone, every day.

Thank you for your support.

Did you know

The RMH is one of Victoria's largest providers of cancer care and treatment, looking after more than 37,000 cancer patients each year across:

- Breast cancer
- Head and neck cancers
- Neurological cancers
- Blood cancers / Leukaemia
- Liver cancer
- Colorectal cancer
- Pancreatic cancer
- Upper gastro-intestinal cancers
- Urological / prostate cancer.

Advancing health for everyone, every day.
